

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Securis Catastrophe Bond Fund ("SCBF" or the "Fund") aims to generate returns and growth by investing in catastrophe bonds ("Cat Bonds"). A Cat Bond is a form of insurance linked security that transfers the risk of financial loss as a result of catastrophic events to the capital markets. The sponsors of the Cat Bonds are typically insurance companies, reinsurance companies, corporations and governments. Cat Bonds may pay fixed, floating or variable rates of interest and typically have durations of between 1 and 4 years. Cat bonds may or may not be rated by an independent rating agency.

COMMENTARY – DECEMBER 2022¹

The Securis Catastrophe Bond Fund was up +0.64% in December 2022 taking the full year return to -2.25%.

The month saw a levelling-off of spreads, a reflection of a combination of price verification provided by eight series of notes pricing in the primary market and an improving balance between capital supply and demand.

SCBF chose to participate in three of the eight priced deals, acquiring exposures to California earthquake, a range of perils for a regionally focussed US insurer, and a dual-trigger US named storm and earthquake indexed protection. In the current tight market conditions we have the ability to be highly selective. We chose not to invest in the remaining five deals for various reasons including structural and pricing considerations. Instead, the Fund made a range of purchases in the secondary market where we were able to find value relative to the primary.

The most significant natural catastrophe event in December was the extensive severe winter weather, known as Storm Elliott, that affected much of the US and Canada towards the end of the month. Elliott has no impact on SCBF.

2022 has seen the Fund produce a negative annual return for the first time in its existence. While this is disappointing, it is encouraging to note that general spread-widening has been the predominant driver of performance, as opposed to underlying natural catastrophe activity, despite that in Hurricane Ian we experienced one of the most significant events to occur during the existence of the cat bond market.

It now looks increasingly likely that the Fund will not ultimately suffer loss from Ian and we finish the year with spreads on average around double the levels at which we started the year. As a result, we view the outlook as positive. Subject of course to future natural catastrophe activity, we would expect the year's negative performance to be recovered as maturing holdings pull to par and remaining uncertainty regarding Ian losses ebbs away, while pent up sponsor demand should continue to underpin spreads.

Forward-Looking Statement - Certain information contained in this material constitutes forward-looking statements. Such statements are based on SIP LLP's internal models and assumptions, which are subject to certain risks, assumptions and uncertainties. There can be no assurance that the results described in these forward-looking statements will be achieved and it is likely that actual results will differ significantly from these forward-looking statements, which differences could be material and adverse. They are not a reliable indicator of future performance. The "Market (Raw) View of Risk" represents an unadjusted view of risk, as provided in underwriting submissions. Modelling uses the latest view of RMS, with additional AIR and bespoke models as and when provided, with best efforts to maintain event correlations. The Securis View of Risk is the latest internal model used for investment analysis, portfolio modelling and valuation. The view includes proprietary adjustments to the data and models provided as part of the underwriting submission; this includes adjustments for under-modelled and non-modelled risk. The two risk models may differ materially. The assumptions and methodologies utilised by SIP LLP are available upon request and may vary over time. All forward-looking statements in this document speak only as at the date of delivery of this material. SIP LLP expressly disclaims any obligation or undertaking (save as required to comply with any legal or regulatory obligations) to disseminate any updates or revisions to any forward-looking statements to reflect any changes in SIP LLP's expectations or circumstances on which any such statement is based.
